2011 GRAMMY NOMINATION

Richard Thompson's celebrated new album 'Dream Attic' is nominated for Best Contemporary Folk Album!

The brilliant guitarist and songwriter known for his jaw-dropping solos and razor-sharp lyrics, released his new album 'Dream Attic' (30AUG UK 31AUG US/Canada) to rave reviews. The new songs were recorded during a West Coast tour in February of this year, and the bulk of the performances that made the album come from three shows at the Great American Music Hall in San Francisco. 'Dream Attic' was greeted with a great deal of critical praise, with UN CUT describing it as "extraordinary playing and sharply observed songwriting," SPIN declaring his "guitar tone as recognizable as Dylan's voice," and Rolling Stone writing "...Thompson's guitar is the star: rippling and roaring." A recent recipient of the Les Paul Guitar Award at the 2010 MOJO Honours Awards, Thompson had the distinction of being the Artistic Director of the 17th Meltdown Festival in the UK earlier this year.

The 53rd Annual GRAMMY Awards will be broadcast on CBS Sunday, February 13th, at 8PM ET/PT.

NUTMEG & GINGER

Richard Thompson recently reunited with Phillip Pickett (The Bones of All Men) for a handful of concert appearances in Belgium and Netherlands, with one additional show scheduled at the Cadogan Hall in London, UK on December 6th. With the internationally-renowned Musicians of the Globe they explore an eclectic mix of Elizabethan popular music from London's taverns, streets, coffee houses and private rooms, with a host of unusual instruments including violin, rebec, recorder, cittern, bandora, early guitar, viol and lute.
